

Local Water Done Well

What does the future of our water services look like? TELL US WHAT YOU THINK FROM 15 APRIL - 15 MAY Local Water Done Well is a Governmentmandated reform to the management and delivery of our drinking, stormwater and wastewater that all New Zealand councils must adapt to. What does this mean for you? Change is coming to how these water services are managed and delivered, regardless. But you have the chance to help shape what this change looks like. We've researched the best options for our communities. Now, we're asking which option will serve our district best.

What is your preferred option?

OPTION 1:

Continuing to deliver water services in-house, with changes to meet new requirements.

Alternative option

OPTION 2:

Joining a new water services organisation, with other councils.

Preferred option

Tell us what's important to you

There are some key differences between the options, please rank by importance from 1-4 these key considerations:

Affordability –

ensuring that water services are delivered safely and sustainably, while managing prices to consumers.

Community influence -

your ability to shape water services decisions.

Cultural input -

hapū and iwi input into water decisions.

Access to finance -

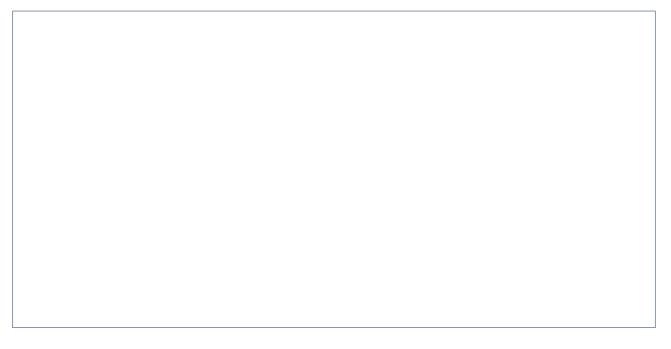

more access to financing for water services and other Council activities
